ViewOne LabLite

ViewOne to View All!

- It may be tiny, but it's versatile - use it to view your Coomassie Blue gels, help you pipette your plates or pick colonies!
- And that's all in a sleek, water-resistant enclosure, thinner than the standard CD case!

When things are small and hard to see,
a ViewOne is all you need - take it from me!

But wait, there are accessories...

Prop It Up with Stands!

- Work on the ViewOne LabLite at a 15° or 25° angle.
- Propped high enough for the comfortable viewing angle, without compromising the comfortable pipetting angle.

96-well Template!

- Go ahead, mark and label what you need without intrusively marking up your plate.
- Now there's no confusion about which well you're picking.
